Two-Line Operation Helps You Manage Your Calls

With two-line operation, you can conference in two outside lines to have a three-way conversation. Or place your current call on hold to make another call. Being able to use two phone lines with just one phone makes it convenient and efficient to manage your calls.

Making Plans? Talk to All Parties at Once!

So you're going out with two of your friends tonight, but you're having trouble deciding where to go. Make it easy on yourself and talk to both of them at the same time. With up to 3-way conferencing, you can talk to two outside lines at the same time.

Put the Phone Down While You Talk

A speakerphone gives you the convenience of fielding your phone calls hands-free. It's especially useful for group or business situations, such as conference calls, when others in the room can easily join the conversation.

Push one button to make a call

Do you make frequent calls to the same numbers? If so, this phone will make life easier for you. With 20 one-touch stations available, you can call your most frequent called numbers with the push of a single button.

Hang It on a Wall to Free Up Desk Space

This phone system can be hung on a wall to free up desk or counter space. This is especially helpful in kitchens or offices, where desk and counter space is at a premium.
